El Bosque is a peaceful villa that offers real Spain in the mature country estate of El Madroñal. The home has been respectfully formed around the natural contours of the plot such that it is arranged on various levels maximizing space, light and interest.

The master bedroom is a veritable home within a home. Occupying a separate wing there is a sleeping area, open bathroom and separate wash room. On another level is the final attribute of this master suite, a bright room currently used as a studio, but easily transformed into a sitting room. Wooden beamed ceilings and classic Ronda waxed terracotta floor tiles feature throughout the home.

On the entrance level you find 2 bedrooms with access to lovely terrace, one bathroom and toilet.

The upper floor presents a cosy living area with firep...
