Amapola is a delightful, colourful and charming converted rustic home and guest house. It is tucked high up into the spectacular countryside close to El Cañuelo near the town of Periana, with spectacular views of Lake Vinuela.

It has been used as a family rental home, allowing the owners to move into the separate guest house when there are guests, or indeed the other way round. It has been most popular with visitors and consists of 3 bedrooms (2 doubles and 1 smaller) with two bathrooms, one ensuite. The smaller bedroom also has a mezzanine/gallery platform where there is also a double fouton, ideal for the younger generation. The living room has a fan assisted wood burning stove and the rooms have electrical low wattage electrical heaters. The dining area is open plan with a well equipped...
